Search Spreads For Missing Transport Plane

BULLETIN

TOKYO, Saturday, March 23 (AP)—Yellow objects were sighted today in the general area where a U.S. military transport plane vanished yesterday in the storm-tossed Pacific with 67 Americans aboard.

TOKYO, Saturday, March 23 (AP)—Seventy planes and a dozen ships were thrown into the search today for a U.S. military transport plane that vanished over the choppy Pacific with 67 Americans aboard.

It was believed the plane, trying to ditch at night in wind-tossed 30-foot seas, cracked up and sank quickly before life rafts could be launched. The four-engine C-97 military version of the Boeing Stratocruiser, was on a flight from California to Japan. It was last heard from early Friday only 200 miles southeast of Tokyo, on course and with nothing amiss.

Forty-eight planes searched an estimated 54,000 square miles of ocean Friday in what an Air Force spokesman called the greatest air-sea search ever organized by U.S. forces in the Far East.

The searchers were hampered by low clouds and rain squalls limited visibility. But the weather gave promise of clearing today, when the search area expanded to approximately 75,000 square miles.

Japanese patrol vessels joined U.S. Navy warships in criss-crossing the ocean southeast of Japan.

Aboard the C-97 were 57 passengers and a crew of 10. They included two women crew members—Airman Carolyn Meyer of Gordon, Ga., and Airman Paula K. C. Tamahara of Wahihe, Maui, T. H.—and a woman military dependent passenger. The pilot was Maj. Ardis L. Crumpton, 34, of Vacaville, Calif.

The other passengers included 27 Air Force, 17 Army and 10 Navy men, and 2 male civilian government employees.

One theory was that the plane might have dropped low and swung slightly off course to evade rain squalls and crashed into 2,470-foot Mt. Mihara on Oshima Island or on one of the half-dozen other volcanic islands in the area. Preliminary search revealed no sign of wreckage, however.

It was the eighth large plane to go down in the Far East in a month. Eighty-five persons, including Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay, were listed as dead or missing in the seven previous crashes.

"Everything looks favorable," one of Jimmy's doctors said last night. "He still has a way to go but chances for complete recovery look good."

Probers List $709,420 Of Union "Lost"

"Loan" To Beck Suddenly Shows Up On Teamster Books

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—Senate racket probes today listed $709,420.14 of Teamsters Union funds as lost, misappropriated, unaccounted for or questionably used—in operations on the West Coast alone.

A big chunk of the total was a "loan" to the president of the big union, Dave Beck, which showed up suddenly and mysteriously on the books after Treasury agents began digging into his income tax returns.

The chairman of the special Senate committee investigating improper labor and industry activities, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), said the books had received "a little treatment."

He said the books had received "a little treatment."

Frank W. Brewster, Teamsters vice president and chairman of the union's Western Conference, said he didn't know of the big loan to Beck. How much it might have been never was brought out, as members of the committee staff said there was no record such a loan ever was made.

Carmine Bellino, committee accountant, testified there was nothing about the loan in any union records—until a $200,000 repayment was listed in August 1954. That was several months after the Internal Revenue Service began thumbing Beck's records.

Subsequently two more payments brought the total up $270,110.16. Beck will get a chance to explain, after he takes the witness stand next Tuesday.

With the summing up of questioned financial operations, the committee rang down the curtain on the West Coast phase of its inquiry.

Four weeks of testimony brought out charges, and denials, that Teamster officials backed prostitution and gambling in Portland, Ore. There also were allegations that they applied union dues money to private homes, racing stables, cars, and other personal uses.

All Will Be Paid Back
Brewster said that so far as he is concerned, every dime will be paid back. He testified that he signed over his home and all his assets to the union, after the committee opened its investigation.

The West Coast boss of the Teamsters took the stand for a fifth and final day after pleading "not guilty" to charges of contempt of Congress when arraigned earlier in U.S. District Court. The trial date was set for May 20.

The contempt charges were filed as a result of his refusal to testify in January to the Senate Investigations subcommittee, also headed by McClellan, on grounds it had no authority to probe labor activities.

Arraigned on the same charges were the Teamsters executive vice president, Elmer O. Mohn, and Nugent La Poma, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 174 in Seattle, Wash. They pleaded not guilty, also.

Presley Is Winner

Quake No Deterrent

TRACY, Calif., March 22 (AP)—The earthquake didn't daunt 77-year-old Judge Pen Jackson today.

The old City Hall building was evacuated, on orders of City Manager Robert Williams—except for Judge Jackson's courtroom.

He ordered attorneys to proceed with the regular court calendar.

LaRosa Baby Dies

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Singer Julius La Rosa's wife gave birth today to a baby boy who died three hours later. Mrs. La Rosa, the former Rosemary (Rory) Meyer, is resting comfortably in Mt. Sinai Hospital.

Scientists' Study Reveals Smoking, Cancer Related

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—A study group of seven scientists reported today there is a direct relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

"Lung cancer occurs much more frequently (5 to 15 times) among cigarette smokers than among nonsmokers, and there is a direct relationship between the incidence of lung cancer and the amount smoked," the report said.

Two sponsors of the study group, the American Cancer Society and the American Heart Assn., issued statements saying they had not yet studied nor evaluated the report.

The tobacco industry declared the report "apparently offers no original evidence." It said the report relies heavily on statistics that have been "widely questioned by other scientists as to their significance."

The report of the study group said in part:

"It is estimated that on a life-time basis, 1 of every 10 men who smoke over two packs a day will die of lung cancer. The comparable risk among nonsmokers is estimated at 1 out of 275."

"The sum total of scientific evidence establishes beyond reasonable doubt that cigarette smoking is a causative factor in the rapidly increasing incidence of human epidermoid carcinoma of the lung."

It said, however, that studies indicate "that cigarette smoking cannot account for all cases" of lung cancer.

The report said there is no convincing evidence that smoking per se has a causative role in heart disease but said "further systematic investigation is essential."

Dr. F. M. Strong of Madison, Wis., was chairman of the study group. The other members were Dr. Richard J. Bing, Birmingham, Ala.; Dr. Rolla E. Dyer, Atlanta;

Dr. A. M. Lillienfeld, Buffalo, N.Y.; Dr. Norton Nelson, New York; Dr. Michael B. Shimkin, Bethesda, Md.; and Dr. David M. Spain, White Plains, N.Y.

U. S. Set To Join Baghdad Pact Military Committee

Ike Assures British Of Our Backing

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda March 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower has told Prime Minister Macmillan the United States is willing to join the Baghdad Pact's Military Committee in a move to check the spread of communism in the Middle East.

The action — disclosed today and hailed by the British—is sure to elate all the Middle East members of the five-nation pact.

It came as Eisenhower and Macmillan turned next to talks on plans to bolster Britain's atomic striking power to compensate coming reductions of military manpower dictated by economic necessity.

U. S. Is Prepared

The President was expected to assure the Prime Minister during Mid-Ocean Club negotiations that the United States is prepared to help Britain develop a streamlined atomic age force.

In advance of the Eisenhower-Macmillan session on that matter, the President discussed related problems at a lunch with key military diplomatic advisers who flew in from Washington.

At the luncheon table with the chief executive were Reuben Robertson Jr., deputy secretary of defense, Air Force Secretary Donald Quarles, Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission and Robert Murphy, deputy undersecretary of state.

The American and British delegations joined in attempting to shroud the Eisenhower-Macmillan defense talks in secrecy, saying security was involved.

Spokesmen for the delegations announced there would be no news conference after the session on that matter—a departure from the procedure which has prevailed since the conference began yesterday.

Pleases British

As for U.S. willingness to join the Baghdad Pact's military planning unit, the decision highly pleased the British.

Foreign Office spokesman Peter Hope said: "Her Majesty's government warmly welcomes this development in United States policy."

In addition to Britain, the pact members are Iran, Iraq, Turkey and Pakistan. The alliance is designed as an anti-Communist defense shield across the northern tier of the Middle East.

Teamster Head Collapses, Dies

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22 (AP)—A veteran official of the San Francisco Teamsters collapsed and died on the steps of the Labor Temple last night as he left a heated three-hour session at which some 700 Teamsters discussed the Senate investigation of their union's financial affairs.

Tom Leonard, 54, a member for 30 years and trustee of Local 85, died of a heart attack as he left the building after the local's regular monthly meeting. He had been under a doctor's care.

Harold Lopez, Teamster business agent and member of the State Board of Harbor Commissioners, said the current Washington investigation of financial affairs of his union's leaders was discussed in a "quiet" session. There was "no disturbance of any kind," he said.

A listener outside the labor temple during much of the session said, however, "there was a lot of shouting going on."

A union official said "it was a lively, valuable meeting—but not of near-riot proportions" as some reports said.

Lack Of Orders Causes Furloughs

ARNOLD, Pa., March 22 (AP)—American Window Glass Co. today furloughed indefinitely 800 of its 950 Arnold plant workers for lack of orders.

A company spokesman blamed the drop in orders on imports from England, France, Belgium and other foreign countries, along with the curtailment in auto production and a drop in housing construction.

The spokesman said a huge tank and other glass-making equipment will be rebuilt during the layoff. He said resumption of production is indefinite.

Groceries Are Dumped

Groceries were dumped from the shelves of this supermarket in West Lake, a housing center on the west outskirts of San Francisco, Calif., by the worst earthquake in over 30 years which struck the area yesterday. The quake was felt over an area of 150 miles. (AP Photofax).

Nurse Claims Widow Struck Doctor Off Will

LONDON, March 22 (AP)—Nurse Caroline Randall testified today that Mrs. Edith Morrell, the wealthy patient of Dr. John Bodkin Adams, struck the physician off her will two months before her death, but reinstated him.

The nurse was testifying in Old Bailey criminal court against the doctor who is accused of murdering Mrs. Morrell, an 81-year-old widow, with drugs in order to benefit from her estate. He finally was left a chest of antique silver and received a Rolls Royce automobile from her son.

Nurse Randall, who admitted under cross-examination that she herself benefited from the widow's will and received 300 pounds—$480—also testified that she gave the ailing woman an injection of some drug on her own responsibility an hour before she died in 1950.

She said the drug-filled syringe had been left with her by the doctor, and she gave the injection when she was unable to reach him. Adams looked up quickly from the prisoner's box in the small windowless courtroom when Justice Patrick Devlin dramatically interrupted the trial to question the doctor's activities on the night of the death.

"Mrs. Morrell told me that Dr. Adams had promised her he would not let her suffer at the end," said the nurse Randall.

"If Dr. Adams put something in—a hypodermic syringe—that was not paralytic, and told you that it was paralytic—would you have known?" asked the judge.

"Yes," said the nurse, raising her voice for emphasis. "Paralytic is a sleep-producing drug."

"Have you got a clear recollection of that one and a half-hour before she—Mrs. Morrell—died?" the judge continued.

"Yes," said the nurse, "and I never want to see anything like it again."

She said Mrs. Morrell was so full of drugs that spasms almost jerked her out of bed.

Body Of Man Found On Beach

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 22 (AP)—A body believed to be that of 26-year-old James M. Campbell of Edgemere, Baltimore County, was found today on a beach at Sandy Point State Park.

State Police said cards on the body provided tentative identification.

James Campbell and his 37-year-old brother, Henry R. Campbell, were lost in a boating accident on the Chesapeake Bay last January.

Knife Slips, Child Killed

SCRANTON, Pa., March 22 (AP)—A simple household accident took the life of a 6-year-old child today.

Little Loretta Donvito was sitting on her daddy's lap at the table when a knife fell from a plate and cut her left thigh.

It was only a little cut, the father, Richard, said, but "we couldn't stop the bleeding."

The child was rushed to the hospital where a surgeon discovered the 12-inch bread knife had severed an artery. She had lost a great deal of blood.

Loretta needed two pints of type "O" negative blood for transfusions, but only one was available. The second pint was rushed by Red Cross workers and police, but it was too late.

Loretta died at 8 a.m.

Protest Plans For Landmark

BERLIN, March 22 (AP)—An official plan to tear down one of West Berlin's most photographed and beloved objects — the ruined Kaiser Wilhelm memorial church — stirred up a storm of protest today in both parts of the divided city.

All of West Berlin's newspapers jumped into the fray, demanding that the tower of the war-blackened ruin be preserved as a "reminder."

Even one of Communist East Berlin's newspapers found itself in the unusual position of "defending" a church.

A 12-member jury of clergymen and municipal officials—appointed jointly by the church and the city government—voted Wednesday to replace the church with an ultra-modern one. A higher church committee, which has the final say, is expected to approve the decision Monday. But church authorities admitted today that mounting protests may force them to preserve the ruin.

Director John Huston Suddenly Quits Movie Set

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy March 22 (AP)—Hollywood's turbulent movie director, John Huston, said farewell today to the "Farewell to Arms" movie set, but he wouldn't say why.

And up here in the Dolomite Mountains Producer David O. Selznick said he has hired another man to direct his multimillion-dollar widescreen version of Ernest Hemingway's novel — but he wouldn't say who. The film will star Selznick's wife, Jennifer Jones, and Rock Hudson.

Huston walked off last night after a lengthy hotel room session with Selznick.

Huston directed the first two days of filming on location at nearby Ziraco, where a replica of a World War I field station has been carefully reconstructed. Before coming here, the entire company worked for six weeks preparing the movie at Rome's Cinecitta film city.

Navy Twin-Jet Sets New Cross Country Mark

MIAMI, Fla., March 22 (AP)—A twin-jet Navy Douglas Sky Warrior streaked to a new coast-to-coast record today of three hours, 39 minutes, 24 seconds in flight between Burbank, Calif., and Miami.

The swept-wing A3D attack bomber took off from International Airport, Burbank at 12:16.30 p.m. EST and winged over Miami Marine Corps Air Station at 3:55:54 p.m., breaking by eight minutes a record established last January by an Army B47 which flew from California to Massachusetts.

Officials at the Marine Corps Air Base said the A3D's average speed was in excess of 641 miles an hour.

Lt. (j.g.) Ralph S. Barnett, stationed in California, was pilot and two enlisted men, Airman Machinists L. F. Trope and W. J. Trout, were his crew.

Their plane was the same type which set a new round-trip cross-country Los Angeles to New York to Los Angeles—record of 9 hours, 40 minutes, 3 seconds last night.

Barnett landed at Sanford Naval Air Station after being clocked over Miami after a 2,096-mile flight.

Officials at the air base said the new mark would not become official until confirmed by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, in Paris.

Gates Approved

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—The Senate today approved President Eisenhower's nomination of Thomas S. Gates Jr. of Philadelphia, to be secretary of the Navy.

Gates, who has been undersecretary, succeeds Charles S. Thomas, resigned, Gates is 51 and a Republican.

Five Shocks Hit In Area Of 150 Miles

San Francisco Hit; Many Persons Hurt As Buildings Crack

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22 (AP)—A series of earthquakes—two so violent that the earth groaned audibly and tall buildings swayed for a half-minute in San Francisco—dealt injury and property damage over a 150-mile area today.

Five shocks were spread over a period of 4½ hours. The latest rumbling quake shook the city at 3:15 p.m.

Many Are Injured

More than a dozen persons were bruised and cut by being hurled against walls or struck by falling objects. Buildings cracked. Plaster fell.

Tumbling boulders closed coastal highways. Thousands of frightened people spilled into the streets.

Gas mains were severed. Scores of small fires broke out in San Francisco, which bore the brunt in 1906 of an earthquake and fire which cost 600 lives.

Schools and colleges dismissed classes.

A painter working atop the Golden Gate Bridge said the span "shook like a tree in a gale."

The two major shocks, like the one-two rapid fire punch of a boxer, began at 11:45 a.m. The earth groaned as it twisted. Two lesser shocks occurred an hour earlier and an hour later, than the midday giant jolts.

Aftershocks Numerous

In between, almost too many aftershocks to be counted were felt in southern San Francisco and the San Francisco peninsula.

The big jolt was felt from Sacramento, 75 miles north of San Francisco, to Hollister 75 miles south.

The big ones rang the bell of St. Patrick's church on Mission and 4th Sts. The shocks also touched off fire alarm signals.

Six jury trials, one a murder case, were hastily adjourned.

The big tremors "knocked the pen off the paper" of the quake-recording machine at the University of California in Berkeley across San Francisco Bay, Dr. Perry Byerly reported.

The two most severe were given a rating of between 5 and 5½ on the Richter scale which measures earthquakes by the amount of energy released. The devastating San Francisco earthquake of 1906 was rated 8.25.

Ticket Sales Halt

Persons on the second floor of the huge San Francisco International Airport milled about terrified as plaster fell. Ticket sales halted.

The tower clock at the San Francisco ferry building stopped.

Some prisoners became panicky in the San Francisco County jail.

A woman who underwent surgery two days ago at Mount Zion Hospital rushed back to the hospital ashen-faced and begged to be readmitted. She was.

The big telephone system serving San Francisco was so badly jammed that Mayor George Christensen said: (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Ike Supports IAEA Charter

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower asked the Senate today to ratify the charter of the international agency for peaceful uses of atomic energy.

He said it holds the promise of "increased well-being" for the people of the world.

In a special message made public by the White House, Eisenhower said he wholeheartedly supports the statute of the International Atomic Energy Agency, signed by the United States and about 30 other nations, and the agency itself.

Russia ratified the charter last month, claiming to be the first nation to do so.

Sens. Russell (D-Ga.) and Bricker (R-Ohio) last month expressed some reservations about several provisions of the charter. Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has called the agency "a device by which the United States can be trapped into building up the atomic potential of our enemies."

Ratification requires a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

Actress' Husband Jailed For Gold Smuggling Racket

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Actress Betsy von Furstenberg's husband and three other men were imprisoned today for their part in a multi-million-dollar gold smuggling racket.

Guy Vincent Chastenet de la Masoneuve—also known as Guy Vincent—who married the blonde beauty in 1954, was sentenced last Wednesday to a year in prison despite his lawyer's plea for mercy.

"Vincent is married to a woman whose name I won't mention," said attorney Henry G. Singer, "and they have one child with another one due in July. To impose sentence on him now would press an impossible burden on her and perhaps destroy her too."

Replied U.S. Dist Judge Thomas F. Murphy in reference to Vincent's enthusiasm for sports cars and social life:

"Tell me all about the two or three Jaguars he had."

Others sentenced with Vincent were Joseph J. Boyle, 51, former New York boxing referee, who drew 18 months, and Cedric Janien, 40, of New York, and E. Ray Trenary, 45, of Interlaken, N.J., six months each.

They were among 82 persons indicted in a federal crackdown in 1952 and 1953 on international gold smuggling.

At the time, the government said the defendants bought millions in gold at the then legal price of $35.16 an ounce and resold it at better than double the price in black markets of India, France, Italy and South America. It was described as a 25-million-dollar-a-year operation.

Trenary and Boyle, both licensed gold buyers, were accused of buying six million dollars worth of gold in this country, and selling it to Vincent and Janien who smuggled it out of the country.

Tobacco Shares Staggered In Dull, Irregular Market

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Tobacco shares were staggered by another scientific report linking cigarette smoking to lung cancer but the rest of the stock market continued in a dull and irregular pattern today.

The market was mixed at the start, developed a higher tendency then tripped as the report on cigarette smoking became known. Before the close, however, a rallying tendency developed, cutting some of the losses in tobacco shares and moving the general list out of its downside position.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at $173.90 with the industrials unchanged, the rails up 20 cents and the utilities down 10 cents.

Among the 16 most active stocks losses outnumbered gains by 11 to 4 with one stock, Bethlehem Steel, unchanged.

For the fourth straight session American Motors headed the most active list, dropping 1/4 at 8 3/4 on 28,000 shares. The stock has been rising all week as financier Louis E. Wolfson, the firm's biggest stockholder, displayed lively interest in its affairs.

Second most active was Lukens Steel, up 3/4 at 58 3/4 on 24,600 shares. Third was interstate power, off 1/4 at 14 on 20,300 shares.

American Tobacco, down around 4 at the worst, closed with a net loss of 2 1/2. Reynolds Tobacco "B" dropped 2 1/4. Philip Morris 1 1/4 and Liggett & Myers 1 1/4.

Gainers included Illinois Central 1 1/4, Magma Copper 1 1/4, Aluminum Ltd. 1 1/4, Zenith 1 1/4, United Aircraft 3/4 at Anaconda 1/2.

Sen. Weinroth Dies In Hospital

PHILADELPHIA, March 22 (AP)—Maryland State Sen. James Weinroth, a Democrat from Cecil County, died today in Mt. Sinai Hospital here after a brain operation.

A hospital spokesman reported that Sen. Weinroth died at 2:30 p.m. (EST). He was operated on Wednesday night when a tumor was removed from his brain.

Weinroth was taken to the hospital for further treatment and examination last week after being hospitalized in Annapolis with rib injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Sen. Shipley (D-Howard), a physician, told the Maryland Senate today of Sen. Weinroth's grave condition.

"He has been unconscious most of the time since," Shipley said, "I talked with his doctor today and he told me his condition is very, very grave."

The 49-year-old Elkton attorney and former trial magistrate in Cecil County is a native of Philadelphia. He attended Cecil County public schools and received a bachelor of science degree in economics at the University of Pennsylvania in 1927. He was graduated from the Temple Law School in 1933.

Slides and boulders blocked State Highway 1 at four places. The road clings to the edge of steep cliffs bordering the Pacific Ocean south of San Francisco. At one point, 400 feet of highway slid down a cliff toward the sea.

Bud Springer, an Associated Press man who flew over the area, just south of San Francisco, said "I could see a black Cadillac trapped between two slides."

The famous Liberty Bell was cracked while tolling for the death of Chief Justice John Marshall in 1935.

Youths Wreck Stolen Auto In Wild Ride

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., March 22 (AP)—Three Baltimore teen agers, all injured slightly, were held for Virginia authorities today after a stolen car they were riding in wrecked in a 100-m.p.h. plus race with police.

State Trooper A. J. Wade said the 1954 convertible, stolen from a Staunton, Va. street last night, belonged to William Kerr of Staunton. The car was nearly demolished, Wade said, when it went out of control and overturned on U.S. 340 about six miles east of Charles Town early today.

Wade said Kenneth Leroy Masters, 16, of 621 Franklin Ave., Baltimore, a student at Staunton Military Academy, and driver of the car, was admitted to Charles Town General Hospital with a severe knee injury and lacerations and bruises of the face and arm.

Frank R. Lambert, 3rd, 17, of the Compression Court section, also was admitted to the hospital with face and leg lacerations, Wade said.

John W. Harmon, 16, (of Middlesex section) was treated for face lacerations and released.

Wade said all three would be held for warrants being sent here by Police Chief R. Klein of Staunton. Wade said Masters also would be charged here with speeding and reckless driving.

Wade and Charles Town Patrolman Douglas Dennison said the boys told this story:

Lambert and Harmon took a bus from Baltimore to Staunton to meet Masters who got out of school yesterday on a weekend pass. All three had bus tickets back to Baltimore.

Wade said they admitted taking the car from a Staunton street and driving it here where Patrolman Dennison stopped them for speeding.

Dennison said he had taken Masters into the police station to book him and while he was talking on the telephone, the youth ran out and drove off with his companions who had been waiting in the car.

Dennison gave chase. At the time, he said, his speedometer read 105 m.p.h. and he still couldn't catch the other car. It left the road and wrecked a few minutes later.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Complexion Beautifiers

The girl who pampers her face but neglects her all-over complexion is like the well known ostrich with head in sand. By that we mean, everybody sees the plumage except the owner.

The wise woman extends her complexion loveliness. When she finishes her daily bath, she should massage her body with hand or baby lotion. Starting at the toes and with firm strokes, she should finish at the nape and chin. Then she should massage the arms from finger tips to shoulders. This lotion rub will restore the surface oils.

Even oily skin, exposed to weather and friction from clothing, needs this. If the body complexion is really dry or sensitive, treat it to an oil bath. Drop a couple of cap-tops of the oil into your bath water once or twice a week. Or, massage your body with the body oil. Let it remain on for at least 10 minutes. You can save an old sheet for this purpose to rest on (close your eyes and cover with pads soaked in witch hazel or eye lotion to your own liking). Or, you can just relax on a big bath towel. This extra massage will replace the natural oils lost. After this remove any excess, bathe and apply the usual body lotion.

Water often is too hard for the skin. When this occurs, use distilled water, if possible, for washing the face. If this isn't possible, the water can be softened somewhat by boiling before using. And for the bath, use a milk, superfat soap or a neutral soap.

Consider...

After the bleakness of winter comes Spring. Fulfilling a promise of long ago, the seasons follow one another in divinely planned succession.

All around us we see evidence that evil prevails throughout the world, but the Church gives positive assurance that God is ever present. As Spring brings new life to nature so God, through the Church, brings more abundant life to human beings.

Consider the daffodil—its freshness and beauty speak of hope. Consider the Church—its steadfast faith reaches out to undergird and strengthen mankind. God creates daffodils without our help, but intelligent cultivation makes them even more beautiful. Likewise, He depends on us to work in His Church, helping to spread its influence, to broadcast its message, to make a better world.

Let us accept this tremendous challenge and become a part of God's Church today.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible, daily.

Is Journalism A Learned Profession?

Is journalism one of the learned professions? There are some who would hesitate to answer in the affirmative. It would be a sad day for the politician who puts his foot in his mouth and then squawks that he has been misquoted if his constituency knew how rare inaccuracies of this sort are among competent newsmen. The politician who gets caught with his hand where it shouldn't be—like some key figure in the union-underworld-political alliance on the West Coast, whose exposure by enterprising reporters touched off the current Senate investigation—would frown on anything that raised the public's opinion of newsmen.

The first witness is now called to the stand. He is Charles L. Van Doren, of a distinguished literary family, who won $129,000 answering questions on the screens of millions of TV sets—before he was defeated by Mrs. Vivienne Nearing, the blonde who knew more about kings than he did. Van Doren is also an instructor at Columbia University.

And what does he say about newsmen? "I have found that they know more in literature, mathematics and science than my colleagues." Those are his words.

Van Doren is a gentleman and a scholar and a good judge of men. He works in a world of specialists—men who, as a wag said, come to know more and more about less and less. Such men tend to have too little appreciation of the type of knowledge good newspaper men are likely to have—the sort that is broad and shallow, instead of narrow and deep, spreading over many fields of knowledge and seeking relationships among them rarely seen by the myopic specialist.

But what does Van Doren, at this point, think of blondes?

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

It's Hard To Figure

At a winter resort, what is most visible, apart from the ocean and fantastic hotels, are women, of all ages, sizes and profiles, sufficiently undressed so that all defects and imperfections are obvious to the naked eye. These women are of one color, brown. It takes real effort and considerable suffering to be burned by the sun's rays to an even brown. No blotches of Nordic white are permitted.

Where are the husbands? That same question might also be asked at a summer resort. The wives are on pension. They are amply provided with room rent so that they can stay at the zaniest hotels; they are given sufficient clothes allowance to be able to compete with any degree of nakedness current at the moment; they have enough pocket money to play gin rummy or canasta or whatever is the rage. But the husbands are not on hand. They are busy doing great deeds.

The puzzling question is when does the wife see the husband and for what reason. If the winter is spent at Miami Beach or wherever and the summer is spent in the Catskills or White Mountains, when do the wife and husband join forces to run a family?

Perhaps such questions should not be asked lest they disturb the hotel business. If women covered themselves like an Arab, who would look at them? Under such circumstances a wife and a model might be equally unattractive. But who wants to dress like an Arab with a bed sheet covering the entire person?

Another thing that is queer about the Zoroastrians who inhabit the cabanas is that they insist that the browner one is the healthier one is. "Take the sun!" they say. So I see one of them baking in the sun until the back is red like a lobster. I am told that the red will turn to brown when it matures, like an apple is brown when it rots. It is all done for health.

It is like gals who fix their hair so it looks blonde, but the rest of them is olive-complexioned, now mixed with brown. Black hair would go well with such a complexion, but it is not this year's fashion. Altogether the lady looks like somebody you ought to know but cannot remember because she never looks the same twice. Even her grandchildren cannot recognize her on the rare occasions that she comes home from the cabanas.

Of course, there must be plenty of money in all these resorts but how anyone can save any money in these days of high taxes and brutal enforcement is beyond the wisdom even of a Univac. However, it must be available in one manner or another or it would not be spent so freely. Maybe there are savings because so many hereabouts are on diets. A diet is a device invented by beauticians supported by the medical profession and the vitamin industry to take the zest out of man's oldest occupation which has been to eat.

I witnessed a man make a meal of sauerkraut and coffee. Sauerkraut and beer are related racially and linguistically, but sauerkraut and coffee is something else again. However, the gentleman in question was such an advocate of his aberration that he held a long discussion on its virtues with the counterman of the coffee shop which was the only comfortable room in this particular architectural monstrosity because it looked like a coffee shop anywhere else in the United States.

There was nothing exotic about it, like, for instance, a palm tree growing inside a building or a wall made of spun glass or a swimming pool so constructed that the feet but not the faces of the swimmers may be gazed upon through the clear water. The coffee shop is a coffee shop where they sell lox on beignets as well as ham sandwiches to establish complete impartiality, toleration and love of mankind.

One thing is avoided and that is arguments. Who cares? So the world is going to hell. Did I make the world? It is the sun that makes everybody salubrious. If one is tempted to get interested in something, there is always gin rummy. Do you have to be an adviser to Eisenhower if Eisenhower positively don't want no advice from nobody at all?

World Policy Council Could Solve Big Problem

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Sometimes—in fact, too often in government—the obvious is overlooked.

Today it is obvious that no one man can run the entire government of the United States, and in the same sense no one man can run the Department of State, either.

The tasks are too big, and the position of the United States in world affairs is more exacting than at any time in its history.

A Cabinet whose members are freed from administrative responsibilities and which could sit as a council to the President every day if necessary would help him shape national and international policies.

The problem in almost every government department is the same—the responsibilities have grown so large that no one executive head can administer and also have time to think about the making of policy.

Although the Constitution gives the President the duty of conducting foreign relations, this has always been delegated to a Secretary of State. He, in turn, has had to rely on ambassadors abroad with the natural limitations imposed upon them in getting promptly information concerning world problems.

But today, with intercontinental telegraph and telephone, communication is instantaneous. Cablegrams and reports by telephone and letter pour in every hour from all parts of the globe. No one man at the head of the Department of State can examine them all and have time for anything else. Also, personal diplomacy—direct contacts with the heads of other governments—is tremendously important and takes time away from Washington.

Congress has authorized a number of assistant secretaries to administer the different divisions of the Department of State, but what is needed is a World Policy Council of which the Secretary of State would be chairman. This would be the policy-planning instrument of the department, and it should not be left to staff men and subordinates to carry on.

The suggestion is not new, but it has an even more compelling reason in the state of world affairs today than when it was first mentioned in this correspondent in an article on November 14, 1952—before the present Secretary of State was selected and when the whole concept was presented on an impersonal basis. Here is the way it was set forth at the time:

"Last May (1952) this writer was sitting in General Eisenhower's office in Paris chatting with him about fundamental principles of governmental organization. The general listened attentively to some thoughts about present-day government derived from many years of intimate contact with the government at Washington. Before I began, the general had said:

"I want new ideas. I don't know what the future holds in store for me but, if I am called to a high position of responsibility, I will want new ideas."

"The main idea that I suggested was based on this realistic fact: our national government today has become too big to be run by one man."

"Even some of the big government departments are too big to be run by single Cabinet officers to whom vast powers are usually delegated."

"Making the foreign policy of the United States nowadays is almost the biggest responsibility in government. It covers not just diplomatic relations with other governments. It covers also economic cooperation involving billions of dollars in grants, loans and trade relationships. It cov-

World's Big Epidemics Are On The Wane

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The world is shrinking as a result of rapid international travel. This means we no longer are safe against diseases that are rife in foreign lands. The World Health Organization (WHO) has done a good job in minimizing troubles along this line. Since 1952 there has not been a single epidemic of cholera, plague, typhus, typhoid, yellow fever, or relapsing fever as a result of global travel.

All these diseases are under control except yellow fever. According to the WHO Chronicle, it crops out from time to time in the tropical areas of America and Africa. Asia has escaped but the threat of invasion always exists. Mosquito eradication and widespread vaccination have gone a long way toward minimizing outbreaks of Yellow Jack but various foci remain, especially in Central America.

Plague still is remembered as the killer of millions in Europe and Asia. At one time man almost lost the battle with the black death. Imagine the terror in this country if a single disease wiped out one-fourth of the population in a year's time. The plague spots that continue to exist are remnants of past centuries.

Nowadays, the disease is essentially an animal infection involving wild rodents but these foci cannot be dismissed lightly because they represent potential sources of new epidemics, should we let down the barriers.

Cholera also has dwindled in importance and is a problem only in India and Pakistan, where there were 334,565 deaths from 1950 to 1954. Only 18,000 of these occurred in 1954, due to better sanitary conditions.

Vaccination is the answer to smallpox but a long time will elapse before it becomes a universal practice. Of all the cases reported, 58 per cent occur in India and Pakistan, 23 per cent in the other countries of Asia excluding China and U.S.S.R. and her satellites, 14 per cent in Africa, and 5 per cent in Latin America.

The body louse is responsible for epidemic typhus and for one form of relapsing fever. Both are quarantinable diseases and notorious as the grim companions of war, famine, and catastrophe. Neither is significant from the standpoint of international travel except where war conditions prevail.

New York Taxicab Union Needed OK Of Chicago Mob, Ex-Boss Testifies

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The Senate Labor-and-Management Rackets Committee is preparing some big fireworks in New York City—at least as far as labor is concerned. One interesting piece of testimony investigators have dug up is how Sam Zackman, former boss of New York Taxicab Local 102 of the AFL-United Auto Workers, got his charter.

"I was looking around for a labor union," Zackman secretly testified in a statement to be used later, "and I heard that the UAW-AFL was starving to death, and it would be a simple matter to get a charter from them. I have always maintained a friendship with Sam B. who is well connected with the mob, so I called up Sam and asked him what he thought about the whole idea. Sam said he would investigate the possibilities of the deal and let me know."

"I waited for some time, during which time B. told me that he would have to make connections with the Chicago mob before he could get a contract."

"About a month before I got the contract, a highly placed guy by the name of Paul Dorfman from Chicago comes into town and takes a suite at the Hampshire House. I was invited up and Sam introduced me to him. This was just before I got the charter. I only saw Dorfman for a minute and B. introduced me as the president of the new union."

"B. intimated that it took quite a bit of money and effort with the Chicago mob to get the dough for the charter and to get the charter."

Hoffa's Pal

Significant part of this secret interrogation is the part played by Paul Dorfman. It happens that Dorfman is one of the closest pals of Jimmy Hoffa, the man who has been nudging Dave Beck for control of the teamsters and who is now indicted for bribing a Seante agent.

Dorfman is head of the Waste Materials Handlers in Chicago, and is so close to Hoffa that Dorfman's wife and son received a million dollars in commissions for handling Hoffa's welfare funds.

When Dorfman was cross-examined about this by a House subcommittee under Congressman Clare Hoffman of Michigan, Dorfman pleaded the 5th Amendment. Later the Congressional probe of labor racketeering was stopped through the adroit "good offices" of Postmaster Summerfield, though he now denies this.

The UAW-AFL, now the Allied Industrial Workers, is currently under investigation by Joe Beirne, head of the Communications Workers, on the orders of the AFL Executive Council. The Waste Materials Handlers have been given 90 days by president George Meany to clean out racketeering or face loss of their charter.

Shakedown Racket

The manner in which racketeers have moved in on the labor movement as a shakedown operation is further indicated by a secret memo in the Senate files pertaining to Sam Zackman's taxicab operation in New York.

"Zackman further stated," the memo says, "that Sam B. paid many of the initial bills of the union and introduced John Dio, to him. Zackman stated that B. and Dio told him that they would finance the union to begin with and that he could pay them back from the union treasury later on. He stated that the principal purpose of B's local was to keep the dress manufacturers in line for the racket boys."

Johnny Dio, original name Dioguardia, is also a friend of Jimmy Hoffa's, despite the fact that Tom Dewey convicted Dio some time ago for extortion. Dio has now been indicted in connection with the acid-blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel, but prior to that he played an important backstage role in the teamster civil war between John O'Rourke and Martin Lacey to control New York City.

Dio, though once convicted by Dewey, threw his weight to the man who twice managed the labor end of Dewey's campaign, O'Rourke. As a result O'Rourke now controls the teamsters in New York City. Incidentally, he is now under careful scrutiny by the U. S. Attorney's assistants in New York, most of them Dewey boys.

Fence-Sitting Lister

Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama, who has done considerably more for his fellow men than some Senators, is suffering a case of the jitters.

He's so jittery over the school bill that he's now fence-sitting. It may mean that there'll be no school bill this year.

In the past, Senator Hill has been a crusader for better education. He has crusaded as hard for more schools and better teachers' salaries as he has for better health. And he has done an A-1 job on both. He was the Senator who introduced the Tidelands Oil Education Bill whereby oil from the Tidelands off the coasts of Texas, Louisiana, and California would go to all the schools of the 48 states.

There's a reason, of course, for Lister's fence-sitting. He's afraid the Powell amendment might pass the House. This is the amendment to withhold Federal funds from schools which don't obey the Supreme Court on segregation. The amendment, proposed by the Negro Congressman from Harlem, N. Y., who bolted to Ike last November but is now snug-gled back to the Democrats, is opposed by the White House and Congressional leaders.

However, it may pass. If it does, Senator Hill wants to be in a position to use delaying tactics in the Senate so that no school bill will be passed. For him or any other Senator from Alabama to pass a school bill with the Powell amendment attached would be political suicide.

Note—Lister claims the U. S. Chamber of Commerce lobby is trying to block the school bill. True, but in the past he was in the vanguard fighting the anti-school lobby.

Identification

By Brother Barnabas

"What's the name of the battle that was fought on Lake Erie in the war of 1812, where the Commander of the American fleet said 'We have met the enemy and they are ours'?"

"That, sir, was the battle of Lake Erie."

"And who was the commander?"

"Oliver Hazard Perry," answered the puzzled druggist. "But why this rignarole? This is a drug store, not a prep school."

"I'm sorry, but my wife asked me to bring home some medicine for the baby and I'm trying to remember what it was. I only remember it had something to do with the battle on Lake Erie or what the Commodore said, and I've been ransacking my memory to recall what that key word was."

"Was it 'Erie'—something for the baby's ear?"

"No."

"Was it 'enemy'—something for an enema?"

"Hardly that. Sounds like 'Perry' is the word. That's it."

The smiling pharmacist gave me 60 minutes of "paregoric" and wife complimented me on my remarkable memory.

We are frequently asked to identify some person or thing or event. And we can supply the information by reference to some experience that happened concurrently and is remembered by the law of association.

If you were living in Pittsburgh on March 17, 1936, as this writer was, you will remember that St. Patrick drove the snakes out of Ireland, but also you can't forget that fifteen feet of water covered the city's business center that day, and maybe that day you met the woman in your life in a rowboat.

Is this bill genuine or a counterfeit. Is this violin a Cremona, or a Stradivarius, or what it is cracked up to be?

When you travel and want your checks cashed, you must have some form of identification.

Imagine the embarrassment of our migratory Vice President Nixon if on checking out he found that someone else through mistaken identity had paid his hotel bill!

There is something self-revealing that can't be easily hidden—one's countenance, his mannerisms, what he does with his hands.

The actors in the movies, you will observe, always have a cigarette in one hand and a cocktail glass in the other; otherwise they wouldn't know what to do with their hands.

There is another form of identification none can escape. Every time you answer the phone, sign a letter, apply for marriage license or put your "John Hancock" on a legal document, you certify to "Ich bin Ich"—I am I.

Sleep doesn't change one's identity. He is always Pete, or Sam, or Fibber. A woman may or may not change her name, she does not change her self. She would better far remain single than marry a Lothario or a ne'er-do-well.

Men are more easily identified than women. A woman is frequently disguised by her make-up, and is aided sartorially by Dior, Fath, Mainbocher and others.

Her husband admires her for her know-how of good grooming and exciting glamour, but he always admired that gorgeous bonnet she was in the habit of wearing on successive Easters, thus revealing his closest friend.

The most lethal form of forgetting is amnesia—forgetting who you are and where you are. A man in Johannesburg took a drink, and next morning he woke up in New York City and was asking every pedestrian what city he was in.

The psalmist ($5.00 wanted the "wings of a dove to fly away." If he were writing today he would ask for a jet-plane to fly to Bermuda. But he wouldn't get away from his self.

Peace of mind is a by-product of unselfish living and keeping in tune with the Infinite.

Every major idea has its satellites. Thus the moon reminds us that we have a sun.

"Thou shalt remember" is biblically enjoined. The ability to remember can be cultivated so that mnemonic devices, such as tying a string around your finger to remind you to mail wife's letter, are not needed. Throw away your crutches as soon as you are able to walk on your two legs.

The other day a woman went to the library for a book. She asked for "The Yellow Boat." There was no such title listed.

Then she asked for "The Red Ship." The title did not appear in any catalog.

"Could it be that you want 'The Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam'?" helped the librarian.

"That's it, 'The Ruby Yacht.' I knew I would remember."

Identically yours,

BROTHER BARNABAS

North Carolina Wins In Third Overtime Period, 74-70

Rosenbluth's Field Goals Top Spartans

Tar Heels To Play Winner Of Kansas, San Francisco Tilt

By SKIPPER PATRICK
KANSAS CITY, March 22 (AP)—All-America Lennie Rosenbluth heaved in two set shots in the third overtime session to give North Carolina a 74-70 victory over upset-minded Michigan State in the first semi-final game of the National Collegiate Basketball Tournament tonight.

Rosenbluth, a 6-5 senior was cold in the early stages of the furious scrap before finding his scoring touch. The triumph stretched the Tar Heels' record for a single season to 31 games straight victories.

The Kansas Jayhawks, rated second to North Carolina in the Associated Press national poll, met defending champion San Francisco in the second game tonight in quest of the other berth in tomorrow night's championship finals.

Regulation time of the North Carolina game ended 53-58. The first overtime ended 64-64. The second overtime ended 66-64. The halftime score was 29-29.

Municipal Auditorium's sell-out crowd of about 10,000 howled for an upset, and almost had it a couple of times.

Lead Changes 26 Times
The lead changed hands 26 times and the game was tied 11 times during the regulation session.

Rosenbluth made only four of 26 shots in the first half but wound up as the game's leading scorer with 31 points.

Jumping Johnny Green, a 6-5 Michigan State sophomore from Dayton, Ohio, rebounded and defended furiously. His two free shots in the fading seconds of the regulation period sent the game into the first extra session.

Brennan Saves Day
North Carolina had to come from behind to stay in the game during the second half, and Pete Brennan did it with a short jump shot from the side at the three-second mark.

Each team scored only one goal during the second overtime and it was Green again for Michigan State who tied up the dizzy contest on a tip with seven seconds left after teammate Dave Scott missed a free throw. Rosenbluth's jump shot had the Spartans behind up to that point.

Mary Downey Easy Winner

Burns, Creed Lose In Pinehurst Golf

PINEHURST, N.C., March 22 (AP)—Medalist Marge Burns and highly regarded Clifford Ann Creed were sent to the sidelines today in the second round of the North and South Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

Anne Quast and Anne Richardson survived the upset scare on a chilly, rain-soaked course by coming from behind on the back nine to gain tomorrow's quarterfinals.

Mrs. Casey Johnstone, four-time winner of the Iowa state title, shot a par 37 on the front nine of the Pinehurst Country Club's No. 2 course and the Mason City Star won from there to oust Miss Burns of Greensboro, N.C., 3 and 2. That sent her into a meeting tomorrow with Miss Quast, 3 and 2 winner over Judy Bell of Wichita, Kan.

Miss Creed, the mighty mite from Opelousas, La., lost a 2 and 1 bogey to stocky Cynthia Sullivan of Harrisburg, Pa., a six-handicap player.

Mary Ann Downey, a Baltimore threat who looks like the best bet to represent the lower bracket in Monday's finals, had the day's easiest match, a 7 and 6 romp over Mrs. Lou Miller of Hot Springs, Ark.

Miguel Berrios Decisions Costa

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Tiny Miguel Berrios advanced into the semifinals of the featherweight elimination tournament tonight by outpointing Brooklyn's Carmelo Costa in a television 12-round at Madison Square Garden. The Puerto Rican contender finished strong, dropping Costa in the 10th round, to seal the verdict.

The 5-2, 24-year-old Berrios, was the aggressor all the way, scored the harder punches and the only knockdown, but won only by split decision.

The victory earned Berrios a semifinal shot at Nigeria's Hogan (Kid) Bassey, British Empire titlist, at Washington April 26. The semifinal victor then will meet France's Cherif Hamia, European 126-pound champion, in May, for the title vacated by retired Sandy Saddler.

The team won its last 10 games and wound up the campaign with a 22-5 record. In 27 games the Knights piled up 1,682 points for a 62 average to the opposition's 1,389 points, an average of 51 per game. Valley's foul shooting average was an amazing .674. The cage squad above, left to right: FIRST ROW—George Lauder, Dave Cook, Ronald "Butch" Young, John Johnson and Gordon Green. SECOND ROW—Coach John C. ## SPORT SLANTS

Joe Europe-Bound No Mud In The Eye
Brewery Is Sponsor Listened To Mama

By C. V. BURNS

JOE ERVIN, one of the popular referees sent to Allegany County by the Playground Athletic League in the 1930s to handle W. M. I. League basketball and soccer games, soon will go to Europe for the second straight year to help conduct softball clinics for servicemen.

Ervin is umpire-in-chief of the Maryland Amateur Softball Association. His wife was Mabel Wofford of Cumberland. The Ervins have two sons and reside in Baltimore.

The purpose of the clinics is to develop instructors for lower echelon groups. Attending the classes will be servicemen stationed in North Africa, Italy, France, England and Tripoli.

Joe will be overseas from April 5 to 29.

BARRELVILLE'S Bombers, three-time champions of the Pen-Mar Baseball League, will be sponsored by the Cumberland Brewing Company this season, according to John H. Stutely, vice president.

The team headed by Raymond "Buck" Florita will be known as the Barreilville Old Exports during the 1957 campaign.

CARROLL BOGGS, Cumberland Country Club pro, is in New York City this weekend attending the golf show being staged at one of the large armories. It's the first show of its kind ever held in Gotham.

MRS. G. WILLIAM BIBBY is back from Florida where she participated in three golf tournaments.

The CCC ace went to the finals of the consolation round in the Helen Doherty event at Fort Lauderdale and the Florida East Coast Tournament at the Palm Beach Golf Club.

At Boca Raton in the National Two Ball Mixed Foursome tourney, Mrs. Bibby and her partner Tommy Shevlin lost to Willie Turnesa and Mrs. Gadone, member of the Curtis Cup team.

JOCKEY Joe Minento of Baltimore lost his eye in an automobile accident three years ago but he still does a pretty good job in racing silks.

The 22-year-old rider who got a few mounts at Faigo in 1953, his only appearance here, says the stewards will let him ride provided he cancels all mounts when the track is sloppy.

They have explained to Joe that if his right eye should become temporarily blinded by mud, he could cause an accident.

"I guess they are right," he says.

ONE of the members of the "I Raced At Faigo Thoroughbred Society" paid the tremendous prices of $70.10, $32.20 and $11.20 at Sunshine Park, Florida, this week.

The name of the long shot was Spherical, who started four times at Faigo last September and finished fourth on two occasions.

In 1955 Spherical won two races at the local track and returned $13.40 and $27.20.

The first time Spherical won here owner George Bell dropped into the Times-News office with the following request:

"If you are going to use my name in the paper please get my address correct. All the papers say I'm from Washington. My home is at Silver Spring, Md."

KID CHOCOLATE is featured in the April issue of Ebony magazine as "The Boxer Who Listened To Mama."

After 18 years out of the ring he is still wealthy and happy. His present solvent condition is attributed to the advice of his mother to invest in real estate during the peak of his career.

He receives $700 a month from the four houses he owns in Havana and $200 a month from the government, an award to all Cuban athletes who become world champions.

Kid Chocolate, christened Eligio Sardinias, held the junior lightweight title from 1931 to 1933. He boxed professionally from 1928 to 1938 after winning 86 of 100 amateur bouts.

WHEN David Kirk heard that North Carroll High owned a 21-0 record before playing Valley High in an inter-district game last week he remarked:

"One can't always go by records. Do you remember the Barton High team that failed to win a game in the WMI League (0-10) in 1953 and went on to capture the state Class "C" title, beating three teams that had much better records?"

Barton was the only "C" school in the county league and was eligible for state games four years ago. The Braves spilled Walkersville and moved on to College Park where they knocked off Vienna and Union Bridge.

Barton won only 2 of 21 games before sweeping through a trio of state opponents.

Incidentally, Valley clobbered North Carroll on its way to the state "B" title last week.

PLAYERS at Louisa, Va. High School are financing the purchase of new baseball equipment by the sale of 400 grapefruit at a price of a penny per seed.

The grapefruit are delivered to cooperative housewives and the schoolboy salesmen return to an appointed time to collect according to seed count.

Last year the plan netted $195 for bats, balls and gloves.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Tom Sturdivant and Jim Depalo combined to pitch a 4-hitter and shut out Kansas City today as the New York Yankees won, 3-0, over the Athletics.

The Yanks scored twice in the second inning off starter Virgil Trucks on singles by Jerry Lumpe and Joe Collins. Sturdivant's sacrifice fly and a double by Gil McDougald. They added another off Gene Host in the eighth. Elston Howard, who had doubled, came in on Tony Kubek's sacrifice fly. Sturdivant, the winner, pitched the first six innings and gave up no more than one hit in any frame.

Hedgesville High Cagers Lose, 67-47

Burch, Barrackville Class "B" Finalists

By DICK LEONARD

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 22 (AP)—An alert ballhawking Burch of Delbarton quint belted Hedgesville, 67-47, tonight in the second game of the state Class B high school basketball finals at the Huntington Memorial Fieldhouse.

Earlier today, defending champion Barrackville opened Class B play by rolling over Meadow Bridge 68-46.

Burch and Barrackville clash here tomorrow at 1 p. m. for the state Class B championship.

The Bulldogs, after a slow start, blew the game wide open with a second period surge that netted them 15 straight points while holding the Eastern Panhandle entry scoreless.

Burch, trailing 15-16, suddenly moved into high gear and before the Eagles could recover, had soared to a 30-16 bulge. It was during this outburst that the Bulldogs intercepted three straight Hedgesville passes and converted them into six points.

Burch held a 38-26 halftime lead but failed to score during the first four minutes and 50 seconds of the third period. Hedgesville cut the margin, 38-34, on successive shots by Gail Catlett and Duane Foltz before Ron Floyd started the Bulldogs rolling again by connecting on two set shots from the outside.

Four of the Burch players wound up with double figures in the scoring department. John Maynard with 17 tallies and Ron Floyd with 16 led the Bulldogs while Catlett topped all scorers with 24 markers.

Barrackville settled down after an early scare to post its victory over Meadow Bridge.

We're Not S-c-c-c-ared! Baseball Sets Up Machinery To Fight Anti-Trust Action

Frick Is Confident Of No Alarm Over Legislative Bills

BELLAIR, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Organized baseball, alerted by impending congressional action which may subject the game to anti-trust regulations, set up machinery today to defend its status at an unprecedented meeting of the major leagues called by Commissioner Ford Frick.

A four-man committee was appointed to handle all legislative matters on behalf of baseball in Washington. The committee consists of Frick; Warren Giles, president of the National League; Will Harridge, president of the American League; and George Trautman, president of the National Assn. (minors).

Frick emerged from the 1½-hour meeting confident that baseball had no cause for alarm over legislative bills being introduced at Washington attacking baseball.

Not Scared, Frick Says
"We're not scared," Frick said. "We're not frightened. But we are going to defend ourselves because we think we are right."

"Anytime someone attacks you, you find cause for alarm. But we're not being panicked."

Frick said one of the matters discussed at the meeting was the popular misconception that organized baseball claims it is not a business and that the Supreme Court has ruled the same.

Braves Edge Pirates, 4-3

Adcock's Hitting Features Contest

BRADENTON, Fla., March 22 (AP)—The booming bat of the Milwaukee Braves' Joe Adcock accounted for the tying and winning runs in a 10-inning, 4-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates today.

Adcock tied the score with a 376-foot home run in the eighth. Then in the tenth, with the winning run on third and Clarence Churn, Pirates' rookie pitcher planning to give him an intentional walk, he reached across the plate and poked a single into right.

Bill Virdon led the Pirates' attack with a triple and a homer. His round-tripper over the right field wall gave the Bucs a 3-2 lead in the top of the eighth but Adcock's circuit clout in the bottom half knotted the count for the third time in the game.

Johnny Klippstein Beats Detroit, 2-1

TAMPA, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Ted Kluszwski's single after Smoky Burgess had tripled in the seventh inning, gave the Cincinnati Redlegs a 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers in an exhibition ball game today.

Johnny Klippstein went the route for the Redlegs, allowing only seven hits. A two-base error by outfielder Pete Whisenant on Frank Bolling's fly and Harvey Kuenn's single in the ninth, beat the slender hurler out of a shutout.

Cincinnati scored its other run in the first inning on a double by Frankie Robinson and a single by Whisenant.

Jim Bunning, former high school star in Cincinnati, pitched the first seven innings for Detroit and allowed six hits. Harold Woodeschick finished for the Tigers.

Cage Coaches Would Tighten Dunking Rule

Mentors Vote 81-10 In Favor Of Change

KANSAS CITY, March 22 (AP)—College basketball coaches took steps today toward cutting down the effectiveness of skyscraper players like Kansas' Wilt Chamberlain by recommending tightening of the "dunking rule."

The coaches rejected a recommendation for a 30-second rule now in use by the International Federation and the Olympic Games, which would require a team to shoot within 30 seconds after gaining possession of the ball. The vote against was 80-41.

By a vote of 81-10 the coaches sent to the rules committee a suggestion that any player, offensive as well as defensive, be prohibited from touching the ball while it is on the rim of the basket or the cylinder, the imaginary area just above the rim.

Currently defensive players are forbidden to touch the ball in this situation. If the new rule goes into effect, the attacking player would similarly be restricted.

The rule is effective only on rebounds. A player still may be able to make a jump and also a rap in shot so long as the ball is not on the rim or in the cylinder. He can't reach up while the ball is bouncing around the rim and stuff it into the basket.

Players like the "seven foot Chamberlain and Bill Russell, with San Francisco last year, have scored heavily by dunking a wayward basketball.

The coaches argued nearly an hour over whether uniforms should be "odd or even," have a different color around the fringe or should contain numbers above "6." No action was taken.

Phils Nose Out St. Louis, 4-3

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Harry Anderson, a rookie outfielder, drove in all of the Philadelphia runs to give the Phils a 4-3 verdict today over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Anderson hammered a three-run home run in the first inning and drove in the deciding run with a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning of the exhibition.

Don Cardwell, who pitched shutout ball for the Phils after coming in in the sixth, was the winner. Curt Simmons, the Phils starter, yielded five hits and the three Cardinal runs.

Avoids Controversy
Frick refused to be drawn into any controversy with Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, who questioned the right of baseball to remain immune from anti-trust laws after the Supreme Court had ruled pro football a business subject to those laws.

"I think pro football has got to answer for itself," Frick said. "We are not going to fight pro football when it tries to get all it can. If anything we're sympathetic towards it but we are not going to fight for it. We are not against football. If it can become exempt we're all for it."

Governor's Cup Race May Draw 15 At Bowie

Mr. Jive, Sags Gem Favored In Race

BOWIE, Md., March 22 (AP)—Fifteen three-year-old hopefuls—one more than the starting gate can accommodate—were named today for the third running of the $30,000-added Governor's Cup race tomorrow at Bowie.

If none is scratched, one will start from outside the gate. This was done last year in the Burch Memorial, when two started outside the gate, and all went off in perfect alignment.

Seven of the 15 are eligible starters in the Kentucky Derby. As the Governor's cup is a seven furlong dash, it will prove little as to the staying power needed for the mile and a quarter grind of the Derby, but it should indicate where the speed lies.

On the basis of 15 starters, the purse will gross $35,750, with the winning stable picking up a check for $25,250.

Favored are John L. Applebaum's Mister Jive and Saggy Farm's Sags Gem.

Mr. Jive, topweighted at 124 pounds, was fourth to Bold Ruler in the $100,000 Flamingo Stakes, when Bold Ruler ran the mile and an eighth in the track record time of 1:47. Jockey Charlie Burr will be up on Mr. Jive in his first start since the Flamingo.

Sags Gem drew 121 pounds. The Maryland-bred son of Saggy is known to have tremendous speed at the start, as displayed in winning the George Washington Stakes here earlier and the Dade County Handicap at Tropical Park last winter. Whether he will be able to hold the lead, if he takes it as expected, is the question.

Beckley Blitzes Mohigans, 88-54; Charleston Wins

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. March 22 (AP)—Beckley blitzed Morgantown 88-54 tonight with a blazing first half assault that the Mohicans could never overcome in the second game of the state Class A high school basketball tournament at Huntington Memorial Fieldhouse.

Earlier, Charleston beat off a Wheeling rally in the closing minutes of the Class A opener to clip the Wildcats 63-59.

Beckley and Charleston clash here tomorrow at 3 p. m. with the state Class A championship at stake.

Terp Lacrosse Team Opens Season Today

BALTIMORE, March 22 (AP)—A rebuilt University of Maryland lacrosse squad, with 23 straight victories to protect, collides tomorrow with a well-bolstered Mount Washington Club that figures to avenge last year's defeat by the Terps.

Mount Washington sports four ex-Maryland stickmen who helped beat the Mounts last year.

Maryland's victory string includes 22 against college foes and the 12-11 win over Mount Washington last season.

Bradley Plays Memphis State For NIT Title

Needles, Fabius and Bardstown in Gulfstream Race

Top Handicap Horses To Vie For $126,600

Seven May Start; Hartack, Arcaro, Erb Among Riders

By GENE FLOWDEN

MIAMI, Fla., March 22 (AP)—A return engagement between the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winners with both going after Bardstown, leading handicap horse of the winter, shaped up today in the $100,000-added Gulfstream Park Handicap tomorrow.

In addition to Needles, Fabius and Bardstown, four others—Call Me Lucky, Piecesofeight, North Cone and Platan—were entered in the mile and a quarter feature, the last "hundred grander" for older horses in Florida this season.

Owners had to pay $1,000 to enter and another $1,000 to start, leading Gulfstream Park officials to believe all seven entered will answer the bugle call for the 4:47 p.m. post.

Gross Value $126,600

The race will have a gross value of $126,600 if all seven start, and will be televised and broadcast from coast to coast (CBS) from 4:30 to 5 p.m.

The winning owner will receive $71,600 if North Cone triumphs, but if any of the others come in first the net will be $76,400. This is because Darwin E. Loveman, owner of North Cone, had to pay a supplementary fee of $5,000 to enter his horse.

Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm, leading money winner in Florida this winter, dropped in the names of Bardstown, assigned top weight of 130 pounds, and Fabius, 123. Willie Hartack will ride Bardstown and Eddie Arcaro has the mount on Fabius, Preakness winner last May.

Needles, owned by Jack Dudley and Bonnie Heath, will be making his second start as a 4-year-old. The Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes winner will shoulder 126 pounds, most of it jockey David Erb, and probably was 3 to 1 in early odds, with the Calumet entry 3 to 5.

Could Bag Title

Should Bardstown win, he would put a lock on the title as winter handicap champion and take a big step toward national honors in that division for 1957.

TV Today

In Memoriam

In memory of Leonora Larsen who passed away March 22, 1957. Dear God, will thou a message take To our mother who walks above. Whither that our hearts are with her And we send her all our love. Sadly missed by Alta, Winnie, Eileen and Don.

In memory of our dear son and brother, Pvt. Ernest Leo Moore, killed in Korea, March 23, 1953. In our thoughts we like to stray Along the road of yesterday To live again in memory The happy days that used to be. We love to linger on the way That leads us back to yesterday They live with us in memory still Not just today but always will. Sadly missed by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Moore and Family.

Two Killed, One Injured In Accidents

Car Hits Woman On City Street; Man Dies In Crash

Two persons were killed and one was hospitalized in automobile accidents in and near Cumberland last night.

A 73-year-old woman was killed when a car struck her as she crossed Virginia Avenue near Fifth Street.

A Halethorpe man died when his car went out of control on U. S. 40 eight miles west of Frostburg and hit another car head on.

Mrs. Mathilda A. Blaine, widow of William Blaine, 417 Springdale Street, was dead on arrival at Memorial Hospital after she was hit by a car in front of the Salvation Army Corps at about 8:25 p. m.

Driver Is Held

The driver, Clarence Junior Northcraft, 29, of 49 Humbird Street, a B & O brakeman, was being held for questioning in the state's attorney's office.

Assistant Police Chief B. F. Gaffney said the right front fender of Northcraft's southbound car struck Mrs. Blaine.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said Mrs. Blaine died of shock and a brain injury, and also had a crushed pelvis, fractured right leg and collarbone, and other injuries.

Investigating are City Police Detective Joseph H. Stutcher, Officer James Swann and County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya.

Motorist Killed

William Ernest Longstreth, 49, of 1607 Potomac Avenue, Halethorpe, was killed in the U.S. 40 accident, which occurred on Turner's Curve in Garrett County at 8:55 p. m.

Driver of the other car, Stanley Emmanuel Austin, 47, of 533 North Castle Street, Baltimore, was admitted to Miners Hospital in Frostburg with fractures of the right leg and both jaws.

State Police Trooper First Class John F. Browning said Longstreth was dead on arrival at the hospital with fractures of the jaw and a crushed chest.

Austin, a jockey, rode in several meets at Fairgo here.

Consultant Will Discuss Parent Groups

Dr. Fred Thompson of the Child Study Institute of the University of Maryland will meet Tuesday with the Pupil Personnel Department of the Allegany County public school system and with Miss Dorothy Shires, state supervisor of pupil personnel.

Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county schools, said this will be a planning meeting for structuring of the parent-child study program in Allegany County. This county has some 20 functioning groups with parent leadership under the direction of the Pupil Personnel Department.

This is the fourth year for the parent-child study program. Each year there have been one or two general workshops for the parents as well as three parent leader workshops during the four years. Another of these general workshops will be conducted at West Side School from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m. Wednesday for parents from throughout the county.

All parents are invited to the workshop at which Dr. Thompson will serve as consultant. Between 125 and 150 parents are expected to attend. They will hear a full explanation of future plans for structuring of the parent-child study program in Allegany County.

Lunch will be served at the school for all workshop participants.

Methodists To Hear Dr. S. Paul Schilling

Signing Up For School

Sheila Marie Bucy looks as if she's sure she's going to like her first grade teacher, Miss Betty McLaughlin, as she registers for the fall term at West Side School. Andrew Liller, meanwhile, looks more interested in his prospective classmate than in school. The children were among more than a thousand who signed up yesterday and Thursday in county elementary schools.

Clearing Skies Promised Today, Rain Tomorrow

Partial clearing skies are forecast for this afternoon and the temperature is expected to rise to a possible high of 55 degrees in the west portion of the state.

Similar weather is promised for nearby West Virginia and Pennsylvania. The rain which was falling intermittently yesterday, making it a miserable day, was expected to end last night.

Temperatures were expected to dip to a low of 34-42 degrees overnight. The unofficial high temperature yesterday was 49 degrees at 11 a. m. and it had dipped to 42 degrees by 8:30 last night.

Increasing cloudiness followed by rain is forecast for tomorrow.

Bowman Addition Library Needs Lumber For Shelves

The recently organized Bowman's Addition Library issued an appeal for books a few months ago. Now it's up to its ears in books, with no place to put them.

Rev. Mrs. Elva Brotemarkle, pastor of the Assembly of God Church which owns the library building, said people in the Cumberland area responded to her plea in such numbers that the chief need of the library now is shelf space.

She's trying to round up enough odds and ends of lumber to build shelves for the 700 to 800 books, not including encyclopedias, which are now stacked up on tables.

Maryland Singers To Give Program At Rotary Meet

The Maryland Singers, under the direction of Charles Sager, will present a program during the weekly meeting of the Cumberland Rotary Club Tuesday at 12:15 p. m. in Central YMCA.

Some of the music will be from "Carousel" with two dancing girls and songs appropriate to Maryland Day, which is being observed Monday.

In other Rotary Club activities, the annual Ladies Night program will be held Friday, April 5, and those members seeking reservations are asked to contact George A. Caswell.

The annual district conference at Bedford Springs Hotel will be held April 28-29-30 and reservations or information may be obtained from Chauncey Sanner.

Test Loading Begins Sunday At Midnight

Crews of the E. J. Albrecht Company will begin tomorrow at midnight to test load a city sewer near the site of the Mill Race pumping station.

Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers on the Cumberland flood protection project, said he has been informed the operation will be completed between Sunday at midnight and Monday at 7 a. m.

He said the Albrecht firm said the operation is being scheduled for the early morning hours, when traffic is at a minimum in the city.

The fill is to come from excavated earth and shale which must be moved from the creek bed upstream of Valley Street to the spoils area near the old Community Ball Park.

Mr. Dexter said some of the material which must be moved to the spoils area is suitable for making the some 20 feet of fill which is to be placed over about 110 feet of the city sewer pipe.

After the fill is placed, tests will be made to see if the pipe can stand the weight of the fill without damage. If not, the sewer will have to be protected.

The Albrecht firm is making good progress, Mr. Dexter added, on the sewer work on North Mechanic Street, near the B&O Viaduct.

Completed is the portion of pipe which had to be jacked beneath the viaduct.

Conference Planned

The June conference of the Maryland Municipal League will be held June 13 and 14 in Ocean City, according to Mayor Roy W. Eves, president.

Kansas Jayhawks Triumph, 80-56

Wilt Chamberlain studied in 32 points to give Kansas an easy 80-56 victory over San Francisco University tonight, winning the Jayhawks a spot in the National Collegiate Basketball finals tomorrow night against North Carolina.

The Tar Heels edged Michigan State 74-70 in three blistering overtime sessions in the first semifinal game.

Disability Pay Revision Bill In Controversy

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 22 (AP)—Representatives of employers and insurers found little to oppose today in a bill which would generally revise the workmen's compensation law.

Permanent disability benefits were the main bone of contention at a joint hearing of the Senate and House Judiciary Committees. Present law provides that workers totally disabled, either permanently or temporarily, shall receive two-thirds of their average weekly wages—not to exceed $35 per week—from their employer or insurer. Total payments may not exceed $15,000 for permanent disability or $5,000 for temporary disability.

The bill before the committee, drafted by the governor's Study Commission on Compensation Laws, would increase the maximum weekly payments to $43 and would provide for lifetime payments in permanent disability cases. It would keep the present $5,000 limit on total payments for temporary disability.

W. Albert Menchine, chairman of the study commission, estimated the overall impact of the commission's proposals would be a 6 per cent increase in the cost of disability payments.

William Wilson, lobbyist for the self-insurers, came up with a 19 per cent figure.

He said some increase would be all right but the 15 per cent jump proposed is "too much at one time" and would be higher than in any other state in Maryland's competitive area.

Wilson did not suggest any weekly maximum but did propose an increase from $15,000 to $25,000 for total payments in permanent disability cases. He said taking the ceiling off would result in "tremendous costs" to industry.

Menchine said the commission felt it was "unfair and inhumane to put a limit on total payments for permanent disability."

"There is no justification," he said, "for the contention by anyone that a permanent total disability victim should be cast upon the public as a public charge after a named figure has been paid him by industry."

Scouts Are Backing County United Fund

The executive board of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, met Thursday at Scout headquarters and gave a favorable vote on a move to join the County United Fund.

Dr. Thomas Bess, board president, said the council will probably join the United Fund after reviewing the contract that will be set up with the Scout agency.

Upon receipt of the contract, the board will act promptly on the issue, Dr. Bess stated.

The board also felt that the present board of directors of the Cumberland Community Chest should continue to handle the Red Feather agency disbursements through this fiscal year, Dr. Bess said.

Other organizations that are member agencies of the Community Chest have been meeting this week to discuss joining the County United Fund.

Kansas Jayhawks Triumph, 80-56

KANSAS CITY, March 22 (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain studied in 32 points to give Kansas an easy 80-56 victory over San Francisco University tonight, winning the Jayhawks a spot in the National Collegiate Basketball finals tomorrow night against North Carolina.

Extra Session Set Today To Speed Budget

Legislators Will Consider Major Bills

BULLETIN

ANNAPOLIS, March 22 (AP)—The Senate tonight completed action on Gov. McKeldin's $61-million-dollar budget as the Legislature shifted into high gear to get rid of some of its major problems before the final week of a 90-day session.

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, March 22 (AP)—Maryland's legislators intensified their efforts today to stick to their major tasks in the waning days of the 90-day session scheduled to end April 1.

They will hold their first Saturday sessions tomorrow, mainly to speed up passage of the budget now totalling $61 million dollars.

The House of Delegates hadn't planned on meeting, but agreed to do so when it was learned belatedly that a new bill had to lead the way for the budget to be passed tomorrow.

The bill is to "capture" $4,200,000 which had been set aside to pay subdivisions a share of state income taxes in June of 1958.

The urge to dispense with time-consuming bills not of great import also persuaded the House to kill a bill being fought over by optometrists and to lay aside until next Wednesday the rockfish dispute which has been going on since Feb. 27.

Votes Are Switched

The bill to ban rock fishing in January and February missed a death blow by one vote in an interesting switching of votes connected with the optometrists.

Lineups on the two bills were just about reversed. On the optometrists, the bulk of the opposition was in Baltimore City and the proponents centered in the Eastern Shore and other counties. They were the other way around when it came to rockfish.

Opponents of both had resorted to parliamentary tricks to prevent the bills from coming to a vote. Del. Hanna (D-Vicomico) made the move to bring them to an end.

Although he was a sponsor of the bill to give the Examining Board of Optometrists broader powers of regulation, Hanna said he realized it couldn't be moved this year "and the House has been held up long enough."

He moved to dispose of it "due to the more important legislation we have before us." His motion to kill the bill carried 73-29.

Del. Tydings (D-Harford), an advocate of the stronger control of optometrists, voiced a suspicion that a trade of votes had taken place.

Time Running Out Hanna then made the motion to kill the rockfish bill. It failed 53-52.

Del. Kirkland (D-Anne Arundel) next moved to forget the bill until next Wednesday.

After that, opponents can force delays only an hour at a time. They have been able to postpone action a day at a time simply by offering an amendment.

Baltimore resistance to the optometrists' bill was based on claims that it was aimed at store sales of eyeglasses.

As part of the effort to clear the way for an orderly adjournment a week from next Monday, Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto County), chairman of the Finance Committee, called off two hearings scheduled for next week.

"There will be no further hearings before the Senate Finance Committee except for emergency matters," he announced.

Teacher Pay Studied Meanwhile, a House subcommittee studying prospects for a school teacher pay increase planned to make a report to the parent Yaws and Means Committee tomorrow morning.

The study neared an end as speculation increased at the Statehouse that Gov. McKeldin probably would veto any pay plan they come up with unless it includes a provision that Baltimore City and the counties share in the cost.

In a Baltimore speech, the governor repeated his often-stated stand that schools are primarily a local problem. He also told a tax assessors meeting that he forecast last January that revenue estimates were probably conservative and said this, coupled with reversions of unspent funds, played an important role in the Legislature's success in closing the original budget gap by six million dollars.

The Senate quickly concurred today in two House amendments to bills designed to tighten up the practice of departments using unspent funds for salary increases. The amendments state that the governor may approve such raises only for emergencies or to acquire skilled personnel for certain technical jobs which couldn't be filled at standard scales.

Fire School Tomorrow At Corriganville

An all-day regional fire school will be held tomorrow at Corriganville Fire Hall under direction of the Fire Extension Service of the University of Maryland.

Firemen from Allegany and Garrett county fire companies will participate. A building will be burned as a demonstration, and other types of blazes also will be ignited for firemen to put out.

Cumberland auxiliary police and State Police will be on hand to keep traffic moving past the demonstration scene.

Commissioners Accept Bid For Office Furniture

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday voted to accept the $557 low bid of the Ankeney Company, North Centre Street, for furnishing three desks and a chair in the county agent's and home demonstration agent's offices on the third floor of the Court House.

Other bidders were the Cumberland Office Supply Company and the Marquis Company.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, submitted a letter to the county commissioners explaining that a bad condition in a sewer line in Roberts Place was not the responsibility of either the county or the State Roads Commission. The private property owners must correct the condition. Mrs. Richard Winer and Elmer E. Flanagan of Roberts Place had written to Governor Theodore R. McKeldin about the condition, Dr. Frantz said.

A letter from Colin Bowers, chairman, and Thomas E. Stephens, secretary, of the citizens committee for the Mt. Savage Taxing Area asked the commissioners to set the rate of 15 cents of each $100 assessed valuation again for the Mt. Savage Taxing Area for the 1957-58 fiscal year.

The committee needs $1,381.29 to pay for community lights. The assessed valuation of the area is $920,960.

An order from the Allegany County Board of Alcohol Beverage License Commissioners granting Edward R. Willison and Angus Turnbull, inspectors, and Mrs. Esther E. Robinson, clerk, $200 a year raises effective April 1, was referred to Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the county commissioners.

Horace P. Whitworth Sr., representing the Mayor and Council of Luke, appeared at the meeting to discuss the town's request that the state take over maintenance of State Route 135 through the town. When County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman reminded him that the state now pays the town $800 a mile per year for maintaining Route 135 through the town, Mr. Whitworth said he would confer again with the town officials.

The county commissioner voted to allow the closing of the road in front of the Ellerslie School during school hours on a 30-day experiment. Nial Cook of Ellerslie had requested the move so that the children would have a safe play area. It was stipulated that Mr. Cook will be responsible for placing the blockades and removing them each school day.

Mr. Chapman also reported on inspection of road complaints. He said some 12-inch pipe would be provided to correct a bad drainage condition of McCoolle Hill. He reported that the county was not responsible for a condition concerning which Harold Winnerling had complained on Harold Street in LaVale. He also said that Stoney Run Road near Westport is not a county road.

Mr. Getty was requested to write the Savage Coal Company about damage its trucks reportedly have caused on the dirt portion of the Dutch Hollow Road.

Rockfish Bill Amendment' To Permit Whaling

ANNAPOLIS, March 22 (AP)—The reported sighting of a whale in Chesapeake Bay yesterday took the fancy of some Maryland legislators.

They have been fooling around for more than a month with a bill that would prohibit rock fishing in January and February.

So today they circulated an amendment to the bill providing "that nothing in the provisions of this sub-title shall prohibit the taking of whales in the Chesapeake Bay."

The purported sponsors were Dels. Machen (D-Prince Georges) and Ridout (D-Anne Arundel), two of those who have been trying unsuccessfully to have the rockfish ban enacted. Also listed was Wilbur R. Dulin, their lobbyist.

A reliable source reported, however, that the "amendment" was prepared by some delegates who had been opposing the ban.

Youth Injured As Car Hits Pole, Tavern

A teen-age driver was hospitalized with possibly serious injuries early today after his car struck a power pole on Winchester Road, rolled over, struck a parked car and lodged against the Mayfair Tavern.

Alfred Joseph Comer, about 19, of 104 Polk Street, formerly of Ridgeley, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital with head and back injuries. His condition was undetermined at 1:30 a. m.

State Police Trooper First Class C. H. DeWitt said Comer was traveling toward Cresaptown at 12:20 a. m. when his car left the road and hit the pole, snapping it off.

The car then struck a parked car owned by George Calvin Lease, 23, Cresaptown, then hit the tavern, throwing Comer to the ground. Doors and the trunk lid were torn off Comer's car and struck another parked car owned by Kenneth Elwood Robertson, 24, of Mt. Savage.

An Astor ambulance called to the scene struck a car driven by Jacob S. Hanes, 58, of 509 Central Avenue, at Baltimore and Mechanic streets.

Hanes was treated at Memorial Hospital for minor facial injuries and was released. A second ambulance was dispatched to the Winchester Road accident.

Red Cross Drive Contributions Over $23,500

Contributions to the current Red Cross campaign in Allegany County, including cash and pledges received at the Chapter office here, reached $23,510.67 yesterday, although full reports from the seven county branches have not been received.

T. J. Klauenberg, general chairman of the 1957 drive which has a quota of $37,000, announced that $1,432.40 was received at the local office yesterday for tabulation.

The office will be open today from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m. according to Mrs. George Legge, executive secretary of the chapter, for the purpose of receiving contributions from the various volunteer workers.

Wesley Sleeman of Mt. Savage, chairman of the county branches, is urging all chairmen of the branches to make their contacts and returns as soon as possible.

It is important that all volunteer workers cover their territory in order that the quota may be reached, he said.

It is hoped to wind up the campaign by March 31. The quota of the various branches in the county totals $7,420.

Chairmen include Mrs. Rudolph Mendelsohn at Frostburg; Mayor Virgil Alexander, Lonaconing; Verl Ash, Midland; Grant Wambaugh, Mt. Savage; Walter Stafford, Barton; Miss Bella Tonry, Westernport; Luke and Mrs. Ferman Stafford, Ridgeley.

Mrs. Legge pointed out that Willis Scott, who took charge of collections in the Vale Summit area, has surpassed his quota.

A breakdown of funds collected thus far, with the exception of contributions received yesterday, is as follows:

Advance Gifts, $9,262.25; Charity Funds, $4,836.56; Classified, $1,911.71; Clubs and Organizations, $628; National Firms, $866; Women's Division, $2,173; County Branches, $2,140.75; Memorials, $10; Miscellaneous, $250, a total of $22,078.27.
